

Lead Follow-Up Quick Guide

A simple operating structure for deciding what happens after an inquiry arrives, who owns it, and how the next action is recorded.

A lead should never depend on someone remembering to check an inbox. Define the trigger, response, owner, escalation, and close condition.

Capture

Where does the inquiry enter and what fields are required?

Route

Who owns the first response and what changes the route?

Respond

What should happen now, later, and after no reply?

Record

What status, result, and next date must be visible?

Map the minimum reliable sequence.

Stage	Entry condition	Owner	Required action	Exit evidence
New
Qualified
Meeting
Decision
Closed

Write the response before the inbox gets busy.

Immediate acknowledgment

Qualified next-step message

No-response follow-up

Close-the-loop message

Make ownership visible.
